Vice President Kujou!
huff huff
After inquiring the residents from Mr. Kitamura's neighborhood, it has been determined that the President's wife is indeed Kitamura's sister!
This is so pathetic.

The identity af Mrs. Ashida's relatives were kept secret and President deliberately hired Mr. Kitamura, sa he can cause the Ashida Praperties ta decline by putting the maney inta inappraprıate use.
I'll just have ta bear the lass.
This is nat just a prablem abaut maney anymare.
But I wauld like ta discuss yaur qualificatians as the President af this campany!
I wauld like ta take this appar- tunity ta say,

You were only able to inherit the position becouse you ore the former President's grandson, even the woy you hondle this compony os the leader has olreody been seen by everyone.
But, to tell you fronkly,
you lock the abilities to become like one!
Moreover, the Kitamura incident hod coused o discretion towords the company's business letters. You are responsible for thot!

To launch a revolution against you, Kujou fired your people.
It's good too they were transferred to other companies, or else they could have caused a crisis on the Ashida Properties.

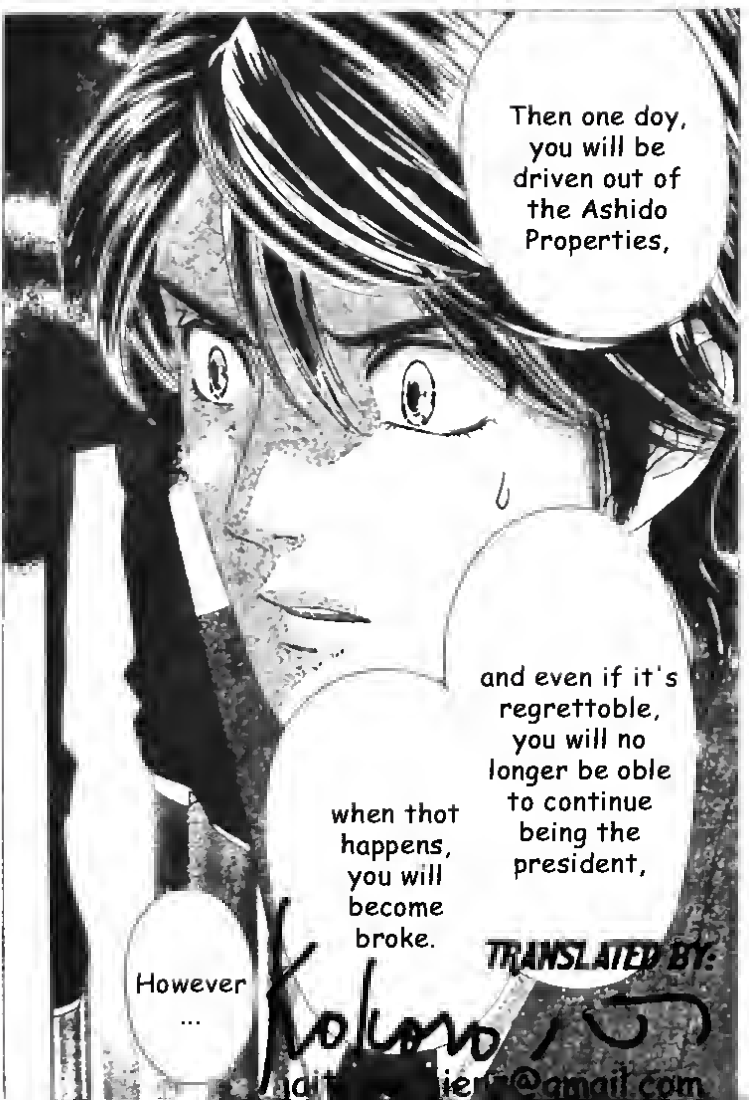
Also, you were supposed to inherit your family's property as long as you get a wife, that's why you simply married Ms. Sumi, right?
How did you know about this...!
Komai told me all about it.

Komai ...
If ever this matter comes out,
if Ms. Sumi's family back-ground were exposed,
The Ashida clan will certainly disregard your marriage and they will fight over the property, assuming it as their own.



Then one doy, you will be driven out of the Ashido Properties, and even if it's regrettoble, you will no longer be oble to continue being the president, when thot happens, you will become broke.
